parquet.

durable: genuine wood renewable repairable

The floor is yours, and that of future generations. Choosing BerryAlloc parquet with a PEFC label is your design statement.

Installing a French parquet floor means growing sustainable forests

Remember photosynthesis? Cultivating a PEFC forest like a garden heightens CO₂ absorption. By cutting down, maintaining, and replanting trees, the forest remains healthy and sustainable.

Installing a French parquet floor means choosing a short supply chain

Our wood is locally sourced in fully regulated forests. So why would you choose for an imported parquet floor?

Installing a French parquet floor means maintaining an excellent carbon footprint

Yes, that's right! Short supply chains, bio-sourced materials, renewable resources, and CO₂ storage during growth and after cutting: French parquet is a true long-term investment.

1 ton of CO₂ stored for 1 m³ of wood
- cut and processed!

The wood absorbs CO₂ throughout its life. Once cut and processed, it is still kept in stock.
